About the Conference

LAW SEMINARS INTERNATIONAL

We dedicate all of our efforts to producing high-quality professional education programs.

Our seminars provide an opportunity for lawyers to learn about their clients' businesses and for the clients to learn about the legal issues impacting their business.

www.lawseminars.com

Global antitrust enforcement and regulation are evolving and have created increasingly complex compliance challenges. By applying different economic values and approaches, countries have developed unique laws and regulations that may jeopardize a company's efforts to standardize its international operations and have created significant risk of civil or even criminal enforcement and litigation. Distribution practices that may be appropriate in the United States may not survive scrutiny in Canada, Asia or the EU. Licensing strategies used in the EU or Asia may need to be scrutinized for compliance with United States antitrust law. With the intersection of intellectual property and antitrust, there is no sector that is more affected by the challenge of global antitrust compliance than technology companies.

We have assembled a group of present and former government enforcers from the United States and abroad to provide an on-the-ground discussion of the evolving challenges facing technology companies. Leading in-house and outside counsel will offer guidance on current competition issues facing the technology sector and practical ways to handle key product and business issues while navigating potential antitrust hazards.

You will learn how to determine antitrust exposure in the current legal and regulatory environment, how to identify and form pro-competitive mergers and joint ventures and how to approach a variety of transactions in order to maximize your service or products' value without triggering expensive and time-consuming government actions or litigation. Additionally, this conference will provide practical insight on navigating government investigations and private litigation. Join us for this very valuable and informative program.
